The Baptism of the Lord

January 10, 2016

Dear parishioners,

Louise and I have “forever” been trying to find the solution for keeping the chapel windows really clean. When the sun is not shining on them, they look wonderful. In mid-morning when the sun is shining brightly through them, every streak and dust particle shows!

The windows always remind me of myself. I can think I am a good person. The light of God, however, lets me see that there is a lot to be desired.

At Jesus’ baptism the Father reveals to us that Jesus really is God. “This is my beloved son.” Our baptism also has brought us into the family of God in a real and powerful way. We share in God’s divine life. We may not see it or feel it. It is faith that lets us know what has happened to us and faith that allows us to ask for the power of that divine life to work in us.

The Father also said of Jesus “in whom I am well-pleased.” Does he say that of me? Does integrity, devotion, goodness, and sincerity show itself in my life? Would the Father say of me “I am well-pleased”?

The key to goodness is not in my efforts. It is in my openness to allow God to transform me through the events of life. The example of this acceptance is Jesus. The Father tells us, “Listen to him.”

The small groups will be a great opportunity to listen to Jesus in the gospels of Lent. I hope that you will take advantage of sharing this listening with others of your faith community.
