Fourth Sunday of Easter

May 18, 2014

Dear parishioners,

Graduation is a wonderful day of accomplishment. Getting a diploma takes a lot of years of attention and steady work. These seniors were just entering the first grade when I came! That's amazing to me! So we do congratulate them.

Graduation is also a privilege. I looked up the statistics again and learned that 0.001% of the people in the world have available to them the opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree. I believe that we often take our education for granted. Sometimes we complain because we have to go to school and do our homework. I have learned in the past four years how incredibly lucky we are to have education so easily available. Tamara, our Iraqi student, left her family and came 6300 miles to take advantage of the opportunity to earn a college degree. She was very aware of the privilege, and she worked very hard.

Graduation is also, I believe, a call to service. What will we do with that accomplishment and privilege that is ours? We need to figure out how we will use our education, not just to earn a living, but to be of service to the world.

Once again we have in the Class of 2014, a class that has already been of service to their parish. I want to thank them for the time, talent, and treasure they have generously offered to us. We are grateful. I encourage you to continue to find ways to be of service to the faith community of which you become a part in the future.

We congratulate you and wish you all the best!

Sister Carol

Fourth Sunday of Easter

May 18, 2014

Listening sessions Random invitations have been sent inviting parishioners to listening sessions at 7 p.m. on May 21, and 22 to determine our future direction in service and mission. Please remember, if possible, to let us know which day you are coming. Everyone is invited to participate, but let us know if you are coming so we have a bit of an idea of for how many we should prepare.

Booneville, Kentucky

1. Sister Angela Keil who works in Booneville, Kentucky, will be here to speak to us on the weekend of May 24 and 25 to tell us about their work.

2. Our weekend to travel to Booneville for our mission trip is June 13-15. We will again be leaving on Friday afternoon, working all day Saturday and celebrating Mass and a potluck with the folks, and driving back Sunday morning. If you want to come with us, you can call the office and reserve a spot anytime. We are again limited to 12 people.

3. The sisters there are in need of "clean, gently used shoes and clothes" (of the spring and summer variety) for their folks. Sr. Angie says, "Baby clothes, purses, sweat shirts, and socks, towels, blankets, and curtains are also winners. People here will buy shirts that are T-shirts rather than shirts with a collar for boys." If you have things you wish to donate to them, please have them here in the social hall by Thursday, May 22. Most importantly, be sure they are clean, gently used, and neatly folded. We want to be proud of our gifts.

Understanding the Mass Monday, May 19, at 7:30 pm we will show the last in a series of five videos titled "A Biblical Walk through the Mass." The topic is the Liturgy of the Eucharist, Part II.
